

My home

Our extended living family, which includes my mother, my brother and his family lives in one building housing two houses with common areas and access, in one respect we are an undivided joint family, but since we have separate houses we are also a nuclear family.

Thank You